STEEPLECHASING SCENE

This is mid-season for steeplechasing. Hurdle and brush racing at Belmont has been succeeded by more of the same at Delaware Park, and we now come to the big hurdle program at Monmouth. In August the leppers will go to Saratoga, coming back to Belmont in the fall. A bit of stock taking would seem to be in order.

It was only a couple of years ago that those interested in racing purely from a dollars and cents point of view were joyfully predicting the early demise of steeplechasing and were closing in for the kill. It was pointed out that, since New York racing had been put on a non-profit basis, the state had become the only party with a financial interest and was therefore in the driver's seat. It was inconceivable that tax hungry politicians would allow a type of racing to continue which admittedly was attracting less play than flat racing at the mutual windows. If the Saratoga and Belmont racing over jumps were to be abandoned, the Delaware and Monmouth meetings alone would not be of sufficient importance to justify the schooling and maintenance of steeplechase stables.

Fortunately the men entrusted with the future of New York racing took a broader view. They realized that the public does not, in fact, bet on every race; that the color and excitement of jumping races brings a lot of people to the track who remain to bet on the flat horses; and that steeplechasing attracts owners who represent the highest standards of sportsmanship and go on to become pillars of the turf. Consequently in the course of refurbishing Belmont a new steeplechase course was laid out and plans established for another course at the magnificent plant now being constructed at Aqueduct.

Meanwhile those actively interested in steeplechasing have not been idle. In order to provide a classic race, comparable to the Liverpool Grand National, which would climax the season, the United Hunts Racing Association raised the purse of the Temple Gwathmey, making it the richest jumping race in the world. Less spectacular, but in the long run equally as effective, it has compiled after every meeting and given wide circulation figures showing that the percentage of winning favorites is considerably larger over jumps than on the flat. This fact is gradually sinking into the consciousness of the two dollar bettor. In consequence the size of the handle for brush and hurdle races has been steadily increasing. So has the number of horses running. Obviously no race track can be expected to offer jumping races if owners and trainers will not supply enough horses to fill them. So far this year the number of horses starting has been quite adequate, even if not spectacular.

This leads us to the weakest part of the picture. Steeplechasing is short of owners. It is even shorter of trainers, most of the good horses being handled by a half dozen men. When a public trainer, either of flat horses or jumpers, enters two horses in a race, one belonging to a big owner and the other belonging to a little owner, the public is always inclined to be skeptical. But because purses on the flat are so much larger, one can hardly blame even the most successful steeplechase trainer from switching over if a flat patron comes along.

The solution? Our steeplechasing is not like the British which takes place only in winter after the flat racing season is over, but is comparable with the French who confine all their racing to the summer months. In France standard practice is to switch horses back and forth from flat to hurdle racing, and to make brush horses out of the most able jumpers after they have lost some of their juvenile speed. In consequence many of the leading trainers on the flat frequently saddle horses in jumping races. We have seen outstanding examples in this country of horses which have benefited by switching from hurdle to the flat and vice versa—*Royal Vale (Gallant Fox Handicap), *Flying Fury (Manhattan Handicap), *Azucar and Cornhusker (Santa Anita Handicap).

There is no doubt that our most accomplished conditioners are quite capable of preparing horses for both types of racing. What we need is to make it worth their while. Perhaps special weight concessions or special races over jumps for horses which have won on the flat during the previous 6 to 12 months might help. Perhaps there may be other and better ideas. Let's give the matter some thought—and some action.

*Cavan Breaks Down Winning Leonard Richards Stakes

Raleigh Burroughs

In most political subdivisions in this land of no second-rate citizens, persons who have yet to reach certain specified ages are not permitted to buy whiskey, drive automobiles, wager legally, or vote.

Children resent these restrictions. Some are inclined to brood over such inequalities in a supposedly free country. Young men of 18 have observed, with feeling, that if they are old enough to fight for their flag, they are mature enough to drink to it.

This revolutionary spirit flared up in a couple of youngsters who decided to go to Belmont Park. Accompanying them was a good parent. By modern standards, this is one who does what his children tell him to do.

For years, there has been some kind of an understanding regarding the admission of tender-age humans to New York racecourses. The understanding was that their presence was prohibited by law.

Well, these two kids were familiar with the Constitution of the United States—the free-and-equal part, anyway — and they managed to get into the track.

During the afternoon, an employee of the course who was only doing his duty, he thought, spotted them and ordered them to leave.

They folded their arms, looked the horse-park hireling in the eye and said, "We're staying."

When a child of today takes such a position, adults are helpless.

The man who thought he was attempting to enforce the law of the State — a modern parent himself, no doubt — realized his position was untenable and took the only step left open. He did exactly what any other modern parent would have done under the circumstances.

"All right," he said, "you can stay in today, but don't come back tomorrow."

Well sir, the infants could hardly wait for the morrow.

They returned with a fuller knowledge of their constitutional rights, plus a closer familiarity with New York's racing laws.

They stormed in demanding that they be shown where any State statute called for the segregation of children and parents at the gates of a New York racetrack.

There was considerable thumbing through clauses before it was discovered that there is no regulation barring pre-21 patrons from premises where pari-mutuel punting is practiced.

It was just a rule of the track.

Realizing the way the Supreme Court feels about anything that is so patently discriminatory, the racing association threw up its hands, and embroidered "Welcome Kiddies" on all its doormats.

The New York law does say that weanlings must not wander too close to the wagering windows.

The names of these youthful emancipators have not been made public. They were not mentioned in any of the dispatches that covered the revolution. And this is a pity, for New York adolescents will be eternally grateful to those who gave them the liberty enjoyed by little ones in many other states; and allowed them to exchange the smoke-filled pool rooms and alley dice games for the health-giving atmosphere of the racecourse.

It is likely that the little rascals won't stop there. They'll be fighting on for another and bigger principle. With the same determination and singleness of purpose going for them, they may win most cherished of all freedoms — the Fifth Freedom — the Freedom to Make a Bet!

Delaware Park

Mr. J. E. O'Connell's Irish-bred *Cavan won the Leonard Richards Stakes, on June 28, as expected, but he came out of the race limping badly, and left the three-year-old division in a rather unglamorous state.

The mile-and-one-eighth race at Delaware drew eleven starters, with *Cavan, under the allowance-and-penalty arrangement, carrying top impost of 126 pounds.

As he had won the Peter Pan Handicap and Belmont in his two starts prior to the Richards, he was made the choice at 1 to 2, with the nearest thing to him the Jeffords entry of Piano Jim and Candace at almost 9 to 1.

Pete Anderson held *Cavan in last place for the first half mile and then encouraged him to go ahead and collect some horses. He had all but three by the time he had gone a mile, and collared the rest easily to win by two lengths despite being pulled up in the late stages.

Piano Jim, of the Walter M. Jeffords entry, was second, Windfield Farms' Grey Monarch was third, and C. V. Whitney's Flamingo, fourth.

With the $35,000 from the Leonard Richards, *Cavan has season's earnings of $133,007. He has 5 wins in 6 starts. The three-year-old son of Mossborough-Willow Ann, by Solario, won 1 race and $3,000 as a two-year-old.

He is trained by Tommy Barry and was bred in Ireland by F. F. Tuthill.

Belmont Park

The associate editor who reads these lines to see that the words are spelled correctly offered a piece of advice on June 28. "If you are going to Belmont," the A. E. observed, "you would be wise to go along with Captain Guggenheim's colt."

I wasn't wise, and I didn't go to Belmont but I did turn on the TV, and there was Captain Guggenheim's colt carrying home Conn McCreary with a four-length margin and a $2 mutuel of $30.90.

Of the six horses in the field, Red God was deemed second-least likely to succeed by the knowledgeable New York bettors.

The largest bloc stood behind Greentree Stable's Cohoes, and those who played him to place, did well enough. The ones who liked Montpelier's Nahodah had to bet to show to collect. Backers of Tick Tock, Bunny's Babe and The Crack got nothing, no matter how they bet.

In the seven-furlong Roseben Handicap, Red God carried 107 pounds. Nahodah was top-weight with 114. The other four ranged in between.

The Crack led for a quarter of a mile with Red God close by and Cohoes near at hand.

After a bit more than two furlongs, it was Red God all the way. When he had completed six furlongs, he was a length and a half in front and drawing out. He drew out to four.

Cohoes was four in front of Nahodah, which bested Tick Tock by three-quarters of a length. Bunny's Babe was an even fifth all the way.

Red God was registering his third victory of the 1958 campaign and first in a stakes. He won stakes in England in 1956. Owned by Cain Hoy Stable, he was bred by the owner of that outfit, the above-mentioned Captain Harry F. Guggenheim.

Delaware 'Chase Resume

Snowden Carter

Thirty owners shared in purse money during the three weeks of steeplechasing at Delaware Park last month, and the biggest money earning stable was the Whitewood Stud which took down $16,655.

Mrs. Ogden Phipp's Ancestor was the champion performer of the short season (which commenced June 9 and ended June 27) but after winning the Georgetown Steeplechase Handicap under 169 pounds he went, according to his trainer, a "little gimpy" and was unable to accept the 172-pound package assigned him for the two and a half mile Indian River Handicap.

Victory in the $10,000-added Indian River which concluded the Delaware 'chase season on June 27 went to *Arywa who was gaining his second stakes score of the meeting, having earlier won the $7,500-added Delaware Spring Maiden.

Those two wins coupled with a second for *Arywa in the Georgetown (worth $2,000) and a second for *Sea Lord II in a mile and a half hurdle test gave Whitewood Stud a wide margin in earnings over its closest competitor, the stable of Mrs. Michael G. Walsh which took down $10,625.

Whitewood Stud is owned by Mrs. George Ohrstrom Sr. and her three stepchildren - George L. Ohrstrom Jr., R. R. Ohrstrom and Mrs. W. C. Crane.

Despite the impressive record of the French-bred Arywa (a 6-year-old gelded son of Warrior and Ephyra), there is no question of Ancestor's stranglehold on the 'chasing division.

Ancestor, trained by Mike Smithwick, gave *Arywa 20 pounds in the two-mile Georgetown Handicap and won by a length and a half as the odds-on favorite.

Honored by Racing Secretary and Handicapper J. Gilbert Haus with 172 pounds for the longer Indian River two weeks later, Ancestor, a 9-year-old gelded son of Challedon and Bloodroot, was shipped instead to Smithwicks Hyde (Md.) farm to await the Saratoga meeting.

"He came out of the Georgetown a little gimpy", said Smithwick, "and I think the rest will help him."

With Ancestor sidelined, *Arywa picked up an easy three-length score in the Indian River, performing as the 3-2 favorite under his 149 package.

*Arywa, trained by W. Burling Cocks, was ridden in all three of his Delaware appearances by Danny Marzani who is making a comeback this season as a steeplechase jockey after regaining his amateur status last spring.

Marzani, it will be recalled, created something of a stir among the hunt devotees this past spring when the Maryland Hunt Cup committee gave him permission to ride in that four-mile timber race. He was the first former professional ever to ride in the Maryland timber classic and permission was granted because he had abstained from riding professionally for six years.

NO, NOT DRESSAGE BUT ANOTHER FORM OF "DOING WHAT COMES NATURALLY" A. P. Smithwick on Prince Nam (#3) reaching for the "handles" after losing his reins over the last jump in the Spring Maiden Steeplechase at Delaware Park. The pair lost the race to *Arywa (#1) - obscured by Blen More (#5), which finished 2nd. Prince Nam finished 3rd. (Delaware Park Photo)

The Delaware 'chase season had its traditional opening June 9 with the twelfth running of the Tom Roby. This race, which carries a $10,000 purse, is named for the paralyzed jockey who has been in a New York hospital ever since his spill in New York almost fifteen years ago.

The Tom Roby, a two-mile test, was

THE CHRONICLE won by Walter M. Jeffords' Policeman Day who was making his first start over brush. The 6-year-old son of Challedon has been one of the nation's top hurdlers during the past two seasons, but not until the Tom Roby did he try the larger 'chase fences.

Winning by three and a half lengths, Policeman Day, who is trained by Sidney Watters Jr., was expected to make his presence felt in subsequent Delaware jumping tests. But, a few days later, Watters reported his charge to be lame, and he was not seen again at the meeting.

There were fifteen hurdle and steeplechase races run during the meeting, five on each of the three weeks that the season lasted. The jumping races, carded Monday through Friday, all drew more than an adequate number of entrants, and there was never a thought that one of the races might be lost because of too few contestants.

Exactly one-third of the races were won by horses trained by Mike Smithwick, the 29-year-old Marylander winning with Ancestor, Hill Tie, Caste, Ring O'Roses and Nizam's Pet.

His brother, Paddy, was astride all but Hill Tie. Paddy, who is 31, later explained that he rode Out of Reach (also trained by Mike) in the race won by Hill Tie because he thought Out of Reach had a better chance. Out of Reach finished third, and it was the only time of the meeting that Paddy guessed wrong.

Paddy was the country's leading jump rider last year with 30 wins and Mikey led the trainers with 38 scores. His horses earned $218,820 - no small figure for 'chasers in this day of limited opportunity.

The young men are sons of the late Alfred J. Smithwick who came from County Cork to settle in Maryland. Paddy and Mike, who work as a team throughout the year, are daily assisted in their farm work by their mother who is up at dawn to help with the training.

Royalton Hunt Races

Carter W. Brown

Having dropped out of the circuit in 1957 The Royalton Association again sponsored its meeting this year on June 21. It had been thought permission could not be secured to use the old course, in fact Burford Danner had begun a new one on his Bit-Whip Farm nearby, when arrangements were finally made and the old site used. It is adjacent to The Traders Point (Indiana) Hunt Club, containing both high and low ground. Due to the very heavy rains which have caused flood conditions in Indiana the lower portion looked somewhat more like a duck marsh than a steeplechase course. However, save for one fall, due partly to the going, there were no other mishaps and everything that started pulled up sound.

The fall occurred in The Irishman's Run, a mile and a half hurdle event for non-winners of two, when Pat Murphy on Fair 'n Square was put in close quarters at the second fence with the result that his mount hardly rose to the fence. Pat received a kick in the mouth and a sore shoulder but later in the day rode the winner in the featured Royalton.

"Bing" Murphy on his mother's U C Future was the winner of this one. U C Future was kept well off of the early pace set by The American and Bellemonde and then began to move with three fences to go. The American faded to third, but Bellemonde with Alan Dufton up continued to hold the lead over U C Future approaching the final hurdle. Here, however, Bellemonde lost valuable ground when her rider started to miss the fence entirely, apparently thinking it was not to be jumped last time around. By the time he had realized his mistake U C Future had gone to the front and was not to be displaced on the run-in, winning by two and a half lengths from Bellemonde. Another five lengths back The American was third. Expected 2nd, who had gone with the pace in the very early stages, and Forrest's Goal, who could not get into contention at any time, were a badly distanced fourth and fifth.

The Royalton at about two miles over hurdles likewise attracted a field of six jumpers. What should have been a very closely contested running suffered considerably from the heavy going. West Wind Farm's Expedient under Pat Murphy favored the conditions more than did his rivals, notably Local Run who normally "loves the mud", but on this occasion could never get closer than fourth, which is where he finished. Expedient was restrained until the half way point, moved to the front easily there and was never threatened seriously, winning from Orestes Kid by two and a half lengths. The latter ran a good even race in which he gradually improved his position. Port Call under amateur rider Ned Bonnie set the pace over six of the ten hurdles before giving way to Expedient. At the third from last he was still second to the winner and only a length behind him. However, going to the next to last Orestes Kid moved to second and Port Call gradually dropped back, but managed to save third at the wire by two lengths over Local Run. Ambition and Here's Why, making up the balance of the field, were badly beaten.

A mild upset was registered by Beacon Star and amateur rider Alan Dufton when they took the measure of the champion timber mare Mary March in the about three mile John B. Stokely Memorial. Beacon Star, who showed very little promise in his early starts this season, has been improving tremendously and trainer Bill Braemer did a perfect job of bringing him up to this effort. There was only one of the three turns of the course and then gradually dropped back as Larry Christison on Mary March decided to go to the front and quicken the slow pace. Mary March maintained the lead until the thirteenth and third from last fence with Beacon Star in close pursuit. At this fence Mary March jumped badly and Beacon Star jumped his way to the front and quickly opened up a seven length lead which he maintained to the wire.

Two unsanctioned races completed the day's card. The first of these and the first race of the day was for children under eighteen years old at about two furlongs. Bo Danner, who has on at least one occasion in the past won this race, did it again on L. Sorbeau. Second in the six horse field was Lisa Schulte on Candy and third was Johnny Acheson on Portland.

Tiny Town won the four horse Eagle Valley Turf at one mile over Buck's Gal and Jay Hawk.

THE CHRONICLE Virginia Yearling Tour

The tour, sponsored by the consignors to the Saratoga Summer Yearling Sales of the Virginia Thoroughbred Association on Saturday and Sunday, June 28th and 29th, was blessed with two days of clear cool weather. It began at 10:00 on Saturday at the Morven Farm, near Charlottesville, Va., where a numerous and appreciative gathering, including owners and trainers from outside the state looked over ten yearlings belonging to Whitney Stone's Morven Stud, D. Farley Cox, Jr.'s Egerm Farm and Mrs. E. H. Augustus of Keswick Stable. The group then moved on to Mr. and Mrs. C. McGhee Baxter's The Barracks Farm, also near Charlottesville, where two yearlings belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Fletcher were added to the ten shown by the Baxters. After an hour's drive the party arrived at the North Cliff Farm, Rixeyville, Va., of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Church, who served a delightful luncheon on the lawn. Because Howell E. Jackson of Middleburg, president of the Association, and Mrs. Marion duPont Scott of Montpelier, a director, had horses running in the Roseben Handicap at Belmont Park, the showing of the yearlings was delayed for the telecast of the race. Added to the North Cliff consignment, which is the largest at Saratoga this year, were the yearlings from Dr. and Mrs. F. A. O'Keefe's Pine Brook Farm and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Edwards' Fenton Farm, both near Warrenton. After the showing the group motored to the Kinlock Farm, near The Plains, Va., where a barbecue supper was served by Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Dancer and Mrs. Mollie Cullum.

On the following day the announced schedule was slightly varied so that the party first went to the Benton Farm near Middleburg, to inspect the 12 yearlings of James L. Wiley. The next stop was Mrs. M. E. Lunn's Llangollen Farm, near Upperville, where nine yearlings were paraded in the courtyard surrounded by her famous circular stable. Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh, Sr. then entertained the party at luncheon at Springbury, near Berryville. After lunch Mrs. Greenhalgh's yearlings were on view together with those consigned by Kentmere Farm, Agent, of Boyce, Va. under the management of Tyson Gilpin. There were two afternoon stops - the first being at the Middleburg Training Center to see the nine yearlings consigned by Mrs. D. N. Lee of Middleburg, and the six yearlings consigned by the Blue Ridge Farm of Upperville. The day ended at the Newstead Farm of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Hardin of Upperville where the display of their yearlings was followed by a cocktail party.

HURDLING AT MONMOUTH

The condition book for the Monmouth Park season of hurdle racing has been issued by Chris Wood, Jr., director of hurdle racing. Four events are listed each week during the July 7-31 span of infield sport. Highlights of the program are the National Maiden hurdle scheduled for Friday, July 11 and the $22,000 Midsummer Hurdle Handicap, which concluded the season on Thursday, July 31.

OFF-TRACK BETTING

In the lead article in a recent edition of "The Thoroughbred Record", Chronicle correspondent Robert J. Clark suggests off-track betting through pari-mutuel facilities operated by the race tracks under the state racing commissions, located outside a 30-mile radius from the track, and carrying a 5 per cent premium - a $2 ticket to cost $2.10. He feels that this would enable the state and the racing associations to get a percentage of the money now being handled by bookmakers, and would meet most of the objections previously raised to off-track betting.

ARCARO'S FIRST FORTY

According to Dick Nash, of Santa Anita Park, Eddie Arcaro had to ride 40 losers before he finally landed in the winner's circle on May 18, 1931, at Bainbridge Park, with Eagle Bird, a plater on which he had lost seven times previously.

FIRST FOR HILL GAIL

With his first crop running this year in Britain, Kentucky Derby winner Hill Gail who is now located at the Brownstown Stud near Dublin had his first winner in Ireland when his son Carrigeen Duff easily beat the odds-on favorite Princess Marie. Owned by Joseph McGrath, Carrigeen Duff is impeccably bred, being out of Beauty Royal, a daughter of Windsor Slipper and Solar Flower, and thus comes of the famous family to which *Solar Slipper, *Peter Flower and *Arctic Prince belong.

GARDEN STATE COMFORT

Columnist Charles Hatton cites the following comfort specifications at Garden State Park: - "The seats at Garden State are stadium type, with 3-slat deep curved backs, 5-slat cradle form seats, riser attached, 20 inches wide, 16 inches deep, with a 2-inch drop from front to back, the front of the seat 16 inches from the floor... Garden State's stair treads are 8 inches high, 39 inches deep, with 18 inches aisle space between the backs of one row of chairs, the fronts of the succeeding row. These are the average fan's idea of solid comfort."

ANOTHER McSHAIN WIN

The run of major successes achieved in England by Philadelphian John McShain within the last year is phenomenal, for with Ballymoss he has won the Irish Derby, British St. Leger and Coronation Cup, and now with his five-year-old mare Gladness he has taken Ascot's most coveted event, the 2 1/2 miles Gold Cup.

The first member of her sex to win the Gold Cup since Quashed beat the Woodward-owned Omaha in a never-to-be-forgotten epic 22 years ago, Gladness took up the running soon after entering the straight and held off Lord Astor's Hornbeam by a length. Then a further five lengths away came the Queen's colt Dou-telle, who just got the better of the French-trained Scot II, who started co-favorite at 3-1 with Gladness.

McShain bought Gladness about a year ago from another owner in Irishman Vincent O'Brien's stable. By the St. Leger winner Sayajirao, she is out of the game mare Bright Lady who herself ran second in a war-time Gold Cup. This was the first winner of the race ever to be trained in Ireland.

DUAL WINNER FOR WHITNEY

Winner of his last two races is the three-year-old El Gaucho, owned by American Ambassador in Britain Mr. Jock Whitney. His more recent success was in the Pomp & Circumstance Handicap at Worcester, for which he started favorite at 3-2, and in the end won easily by four lengths but not before he had caused great consternation to his backers by unseating his jockey at the gate and galloping loose. Fortunately he was soon caught, and all ended well.

NATIVE DANCER HAS FRENCH WINNER

American Mrs. P. A. B. Widener now has several horses of American breeding trained in France, and at Chantilly on the day of the French Oaks her Native Dancer colt Dan Cupid (out of Vixenette) took the Prix de la Reine Blanche, a race over five furlongs for two-year-olds that had not previously run. Trained by Etienne Pollet, Dan Cupid won by a head in a field of nine.

GOOD PICKING

When it was announced that a $20,000 race was to be run this year in Belgium in connection with the Brussels World Fair, one of the owners in that country, M. de Middelheer, sent his trainer to the Newmarket December Sales to buy a horse especially to win this race. Working in conjunction with the British Bloodstock Agency, he selected the five-year-old Devonport, by Alycidon out of Merry Devon.

Last month the story had the true Fairy Book ending when Devonport won the race that he had been bought for by a short-head at 20-1.

TIM TAM'S OPERATION

A team of veterinarians from the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine, headed by Dr. Charles Raker, chairman of the school's Department of Surgery, and Dr. Jacques Jenny, assisted attending Dr. William O. Reed, of New York, in removing 14 chips of bone from the broken sesamoid which Tim Tam sustained during the running of the Belmont.

ARLINGTON POOLS

F. Lindheimer, executive director of Arlington Park, near Chicago, Illinois, is constructing two swimming pools in the stable area for the benefit of race track personnel. A building containing showers and dressing rooms adjoining the pools is also being built.

SOUTH AFRICAN YEARLINGS

Principal buyer at the annual yearling sales at Johannesburg, South Africa, was the American Mr. C. W. Engelhardt, whose racing stable is trained by George Azzie in Johannesburg.

SALE AT ARLINGTON PARK

The Breeders' Sales Company, in conjunction with the Illinois Thoroughbred Breeders' Association and in cooperation with Benjamin F. Lindheimer, executive director of Arlington and Washington Parks, will conduct a mixed sale of breeding stock, racing stock and yearlings at Arlington Park on September 4 and 5, of this year.

Designed as an annual affair, the auction will be the first out-of-state vendue in the 15-year history of the non-profit, cooperative organization.

The sale is open to any breeder or owner with a deadline for entries set for August 1. Entry blanks may be obtained from the Breeders' Sales Company or the Illinois Thoroughbred Breeders' Association.

Conditions of the sale bar barren mares, with maiden mares acceptable.

With the Hawthorne race meeting in progress, the sale at Arlington Park will be conducted in evening sessions.

HOW PHALANX LOST

"If I had a clock in my head I would have won another Derby", said Eddie Arcaro. "In 1947, I pulled a boner that cost Phalanx the race by a nose. I tried to make my move with him on a muddy track between the half-mile and the quarter-poles, and I couldn't understand why he wasn't picking up the other horses. The figures later showed that was the fastest quarter mile in the race. I put so much pressure on Phalanx that he didn't finish with the real live punch he always had." Phalanx (Pilate-Jacola by *Jacopo) was bred by Abram S. Hewitt at the Montana Hall Farm, White Post, Virginia.

News from the STUDS

VIRGINIA

BROOKMEADE'S ORPHAN FOAL

Because the Brookmeade Farms great broodmare Sun Mixa, dam of the stakes winners Big Effort, Encore, Sunny Vale, Sunny Dale and Fertile Land, was unable to nurse her bay colt foal by Native Dancer this year, the youngster was shifted to a Palomino mare which is doing a fine job as a foster mother. Sun Mixa is being bred this year to Kentmere Farm's *Double Eclipse.

EDWARDS YEARLINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Edwards, of Warrenton, have a couple of yearlings whose pedigree and looks certainly qualify them for the winners' circle. So also does their show ring record to date. Their colt by *Miche out of Perfect Melody won the yearling colt class at the Blue Ridge Hunt Horse Show, Millwood, Va., on June 7th, while another colt by Be Fleet out of Castle Tower won the Gilpin Challenge Trophy for the best yearling colt at the Upperville Horse Show a week later.

NORTH HILL MARES

The good broodmare Stars'nstripes by *Blenheim II out of Firetop which was purchased by North Hill Farm, Berryville, Va., at the Newmarket Sales this winter died in England recently due to kidney ailment. She has been bred to Darius.

At the time of the purchase of Stars'nstripes another good broodmare was purchased at the Newmarket Sales. She is Merry Game by Big Game out of Merry Vixen. On April 13, 1958, she foaled a chestnut colt by Tenerani. Merry Game was bred back to Grey Sovereign. Mother and son will be shipped to this country in July.

The last foal at North Hill Farm this spring was a filly by *Midas out of *Run Honey by Taj Ud Din, foaled March 31st. The mare is owned by North Hill and she is going back to *Midas.

KENTUCKY

GUGGENHEIM YEARLINGS

Harry F. Guggenheim, owner of the successful Cain Hoy racing stable, for the first time this year is consigning 6 homebred yearlings to the Fasig-Tipton Company's Saratoga Summer Sales, two colts and four fillies, including a son of *Nasrullah and a daughter of *Alibhai. The dams include Lalun, winner of the Beldame and the Kentucky Oaks; Azalea, dam of Nile Lily; and Spring Run, the dam of Red God.

ONE-HORSE TRAILER

"The Thoroughbred Record" reports that last year Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Craney, of Arizona, drove into Jack Welch's farm near Lexington, Kentucky, with a one-horse trailer looking for a yearling to buy. Their choice was a filly by Provocative out of Golden Mommy, by Golden Man, with which, under the name of Kentucky Doll, they recently won the Paradise Valley Stakes at Phoenix, this being her third win.

Hagin II, A. B. Hancock, Jr., John W. Hanes, Warner L. Jones, Jr., King Ranch, Ogden Phipps and George D. Widener.

FLORIDA

THE FLORIDA HORSE

We welcome a new contemporary, "The Florida Horse", whose Volume I, Number 1, is dated June 1958. It is published by the Florida Breeders Sales Association, Inc., and edited by its secretary, Karl Koontz, former racing editor of The Chronicle. The lead editorial states: - "The principal difference between this Association and any other existing in the State is that the FBSA places emphasis upon the commercial features of breeding, particularly the sale of Thoroughbred horses.

"The purpose of this magazine is to disseminate information of interest to Thoroughbred breeders, particularly in the State of Florida. The publisher will endeavor to report the true facts without prejudice and hopes to perform a genuine service to the industry. This publication will be conducted in an aggressive, intelligent fashion and in a manner to bring credit upon the Thoroughbred breeding interests in Florida. The publisher will strive to avoid unnecessary controversy and will attempt to bring Florida horsemen closer together. You are invited to use this facility as it fits your needs."

The issue consists of 16 pages printed on a tinted (yellow) glossy paper with a cover illustration showing Elkcarn Stable's Hubcap winning the Swift Stakes plus other illustrations scattered throughout its pages. It is packed with interesting and factual information about Florida racing and breeding.

The Litchfield County Hound Show

William M. Backer

The Litchfield County Hound Show was started as an annual fixture in 1950 because New England and upstate New York packs start cubbing about the time of the Bryn Mawr Show. The Masters of the Litchfield County Hounds felt there was a place for a nearby show at a convenient time to help stimulate interest in breeding better type hounds, and to provide a chance to compete against hounds from packs which can show regularly at Bryn Mawr.

This year, perhaps for the first time, one could see improvements in entries from nearby packs which were directly traceable to past Litchfield Shows. So this 1956 edition had a certain sense of fulfillment, as well as the pleasantest summer weather in the Weatherman's Catalogue and the largest, typiest group of visiting hounds to date. The local hounds didn't jog off with any tri-colors, or even important blues, against hounds like Potomac Tweet Tweet, '56, and Essex

Trimmer, '56, but this observer felt there were several who would have won their division against the competition of '53 or '54.

As in past years, this Litchfield Show was held under the joint auspices of the Masters of Foxhounds Association and the American Foxhound Club.

Dog Hounds

Essex started off by winning the first three classes, Single Entered Dog Hound with their Trimmer, and Single Unentered Dog, with their Foreigner and the Couple of Unentered Dog with Foreigner and his litter brother, Fencer. Foreigner is, from a show standpoint, one of today's most royally bred American Foxhounds. His dam, Essex Frolic, was runner up to her litter mate, Fireman, for Best of Show at Litchfield in 1955 and 1956. At Bryn Mawr she was Champion American Foxhound in 1956.

Foreigner's sire, Millbrook Jolly '55, was Champion American Foxhound at Litchfield in 1957, and Reserve Champion to Frolic, at Bryn Mawr in 1956.

Foreigner's performance in competition with some of the better field trial hounds down south or here in our Connecticut Valley would answer a lot of questions about the desirability of breeding for conformation and type. It would be a very worthwhile sporting gesture to enter him when he is ready, and this correspondent hopes the Masters of Essex will consider it.

Runner up to Foreigner in the Single Unentered Dog Hound Class was Litchfield Diamond by Litchfield Forman, '56 ex their Dora '56. Forman, incidentally, was second to Potomac Tony '53 in the Stallion Hound class. He is a good bodied young hound who was shown with the remains of a racing number still visible over his ribs. The farmers in the Connecticut Valley hold hound trials almost all year round, and Forman has proved to be a consistent king of competitor, as well as a seemingly prepotent sire. Like Essex Foreigner, Forman's pedigree is well sprinkled with ribbon winners on the bench. His sire is Essex Rowdy, '47, sire of the dam of Essex Frolic, and his second dam, Rombout Cleo was a good winner at Litchfield some years back.

The Bitches

Potomac's red and white bitches dominated their division even more completely than the Essex dog hounds did theirs. Potomac Tweet Tweet won Single Entered Bitch, and Best Brood Bitch, in rather convincing style. Potomac Truly's runner up in Single Unentered Bitch was her littermate, Tansy.

The Single Unentered Bitch Class, incidentally, was this observer's choice for best class of the day. There were fourteen entries, and Judge Mason Houghland gave some half dozen of them three of four very serious appraisals, such was the quality as well as the quantity in this class. Elias Chadwell showed a racy looking young Millbrook bitch whose truly classic American foxhound head, neck, and profile made her the heavy favorite of the ringside speculators. Rombout's nine month old Dacie by their Best ('57) out of Brood Bitch Winner, Ruby, '55, lacks but a few months of the maturity to be a very appealing type. Litchfield's almost pure white Resolute, third to Potomac Truly and Tansy, is one of those small, compact, bitches one doesn't "see" as quickly as other types. But she's very hard to fault on close inspection.

Best of Show

The picnic-break came after the Unentered Bitch class, and ringsiders retired to the Haight's ample terraces to unpack lunches and renew acquaintances with the many hunting folk who had come from as far south as Virginia for the show.

The afternoon classes as usual were climaxed by the competition for Best of Show, and the Pack Class. In the former, Potomac Tweet Tweet faced Essex Trimmer and judge Mason Houghland kindly did some of his work out loud. He explained that since both were virtually impossible to fault, it was a matter of weighing the outstanding points of each. He felt that Tweet Tweet's back and topline were outstanding, while Trimmer's head was his idea of exactly what should carry the nose of the ideal American foxhound. Mr. Houghland would never do judging an Atlantic City-type beauty contest. He picked the back line over the head, and Potomac Tweet Tweet carried off the tri-color . . . Best of Show for 1958 at Litchfield.

Pack Class

The Pack Class is customarily the favorite among spectators, and Litchfield's was no exception. Six packs (5 couple each) packed-in, where the close proximity of one to another stretched discipline almost to the breaking point for five of the packs, and finally snapped it in the form of Litchfield Rover. That son of Danger '52 broke ranks for the company of Potomac's gay and level bitches, for which one could hardly blame him, especially after Mason Houghland supported Rover's good taste by giving Potomac the nod over Essex for Best Pack of the Show.

In pinning the packs as he did, Mr. Houghland, perhaps, placed a higher premium on levelness than other judges might have, and the final order was Potomac, Essex, and Litchfield. The class completed a thoroughly successful day.

COURTESY OF PUTNAM, LONDON

Interstate Equitation Committee

Recommendations to Show Managements

1. READ AND CONFORM to the AHSA Rule Book where applicable to Equitation;
2. SCHEDULE ALL EQUITATION CLASSES IN DAYLIGHT if your Show's inadequate, artificial lighting precludes accurate fine-point judging after dark;
3. SCHEDULE SUCH CLASSES EARLY if you do place them on evening sessions in your program, for it is heartless to call out Junior Riders for Equitation (and other events also) as late at night as some of you do;
4. PIN AT LEAST SIX PLACES in ALL Equitation Events and EIGHT in all Finals, Championships, ASHA Medal and NHS Good Hands classes. Present a trophy in ALL classes. These do not have to be expensive, but should be appropriately thoughtful and will be encouraging and inspiring.
5. SCHEDULE AT LEAST THREE EQUITATION CLASSES as an absolute minimum in each "Seat" Division; Riders 13 and under, Riders 14 to 18 and a Championship Class. Schedule no fewer than these three but add more, of course, if you choose to;
6. It is important from the Equitation viewpoint that your Show affiliate with the AHSA so you can schedule MEDAL CLASSES and also it is suggested that you program a NHS GOOD HANDS CLASS. But at every show these two Classes should SUPPLEMENT THE BASIC ONES (above) and not replace them! No well-planned Horse Show, (excepting the NHS in New York City) if the management desires to nurture and encourage Equitation Juniors at all, should offer just one or the other or both of these "special" classes as their ONLY Equitation Event(s).

7. Be positive and certain that you SECURE THE SERVICES OF A JUDGE WHO KNOWS EQUITATION and who has the ability to translate that knowledge into practice and accurate judging. Most Equitation Riders today are STUDENTS of the subject and smarter than usually suspected. They quickly evaluate their judges and accurately "size them up". Show Managements bear the brunt of their conclusions;

8. CEASE INSTRUCTING JUDGES TO HURRY THROUGH EQUITATION CLASSES. If they are competent they will keep the interest and attention of spectators. They can and should make these classes "good shows" for the public;

9. USE SEPARATE AND SPECIAL JUDGES FOR EQUITATION when you feel your Horse Judges are not capable for Horsemanship testing and adjudication. When Judges "fail you" at a Show by "giving up" Equitation at the very last moment by refusal to preside over such classes, let the facts be known and publicly explain your last minute substitution of a Judge, and drop the one (in the future) who put you "on the spot" and report such foolishness to the Judge's Committee of the AHSA;

10. BE CERTAIN YOUR ANNOUNCER KNOWS EQUITATION. Use a SPECIAL Announcer for these classes if need be. Language and terms are just as important (or more so), in these classes as in the others of a Show.

Have him "clear the rail" and keep it clear. It is a disgrace at some of America's important nationally-recognized shows that during Equitation and other Junior Rider classes the show-ring rail is "so overhung" with arms, hands, bodies, coats, papers, packages, scarfs, whips, etc., that it is a menace to safety, is poor manners on the part of managements and outright careless negligence. It is perfectly obvious that the managements of such Shows just "don't care" or are dead asleep and discourteous. A thoughtless announcer is to blame in most instances. Let the Interstate Shows make every effort in every way to "create a good climate" for Juvenile Exhibitors;

11. REQUEST YOUR SHOW MUSIC SOURCE to use particular care in choosing proper selections for Equitation accompaniment and to see that Loudspeakers are kept away from close-up "blasting" rail positions;

12. TOO MANY RINGMASTERS ARE INCOMPETENT FOR EQUITATION CLASSES. Constant alertness, caution, attention, especial courtesy to impress the "youngsters" and dignity are too often lacking from the Ringmaster in Juvenile Classes. Some of the allegedly best in the business are downright negligent and inattentive in Children's Classes and too often spend most of their time during such Classes "visiting", picking up and throwing gravel and otherwise seemingly-on-purpose staying just as far away and aloof from proceedings as possible, to the consternation of Judges and annoyance of everyone else. If a class have over 6-8 entries send in an Assistant Ringmaster, if only for safety's sake, which is an important enough reason.

13. FURNISH A RINGSIDE MIKE FOR THE JUDGE, center-ring. The Rules call for Individual Tests to be announced over the PA. Provide this facility and ask that the Judge use it to prevent announcer error, elaboration or deletion.

14. LATE MORNING HOURS PROVIDE PLENTY OF TIME FOR EQUITATION PRELIMINARY CLASSES and do not interfere with or crowd (?) your other Classes.

15. SCHEDULE "LOCAL" EQUITATION classes to follow, not precede, "Open" classes. Such is just basic courtesy to visitors. Otherwise the visitors can conclude that your Committee is deliberately attempting to give the "locals" the break of "a first and lasting impression" on the Judge.

Ox Ridge

Entries were large and the horses went well for the 29th annual June horse show at Ox Ridge. It rained some the first day but cool breezes and blue skies followed to make it perfect horse show weather.

Adolphe Mogavero rode Oak Ridge Farm's First Chance and Sonora to the champion and reserve jumper rosettes.

Many of the conformation classes were won by Peggy Augustus and her Waiting Home. This win was a duplicate of last year's show.

Bob Burke and George Clarkson rode the latter's Ace of Diamonds and The Squire for the green hunter rosettes.

The largest of the hunter divisions was the green working. Two first year horses took both tri-colors. Mike Plumb rode Markham, owned by Harry Peters, to win two classes. Sally Deland rode her High Society to get nine points and then she won the stake to win five more, putting her ahead of Markham to be champion.

John Vass accumulated twenty-five points for the working hunter title with Champtown, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Berry, Jr. One of their many wins included the Greenwich, Ox Ridge and Fairfield Challenge trophy for gentlemen to ride.

Lois Nonemaker's Country Boy with Al Fiore up was almost beaten by Shirley Weinstein's David's Shoes for the green jumper title, however, the former came up by winning the stake.

The junior division always has many entries. Most of the horses had good trips, so it was very hard to get in the ribbons. Wendy Hanson rode Secor Farms Riding Club's Star Chamber to win many ribbons which included the Teacher's Hope Memorial Trophy for junior working hunters and the junior jumpers. For reserve, there was a tie between Michael Del Balso's Tired, winner of both two-day working hunter classes, and Richard Keller's Mexico. The latter broke the tie in the hack-off. Richard Keller also won the MacLay event which qualifies him for the National Horse Show in the fall.

THE "L.A." SADDLE BRACKET

(Patent Pending)

$7.50 from your dealer

The greatest improvement in a saddle bracket since the saddle was made. The light weight chromium finished steel rods hold the saddle more securely and cannot damage the panel. Conforms to the shape of the seat and will not leave marks on the panel such as ordinary bracket may. Construction allows complete ventilation, yet the saddle does not touch wall. Especially suitable for forward seat saddles. Easily installed and extends less than 16" from the wall. Almost impossible for saddle to fall off. With bridle hook.

Suffolk

"Great" was the way Kathleen Watson described her winnings at this stadium show. Kathleen, a 14-year-old miss from Virginia Beach, Va., entered 7 Pony Hunter Classes with her bold going liver chestnut Snow Dancer, and won 7 blues. Snow Dancer, undefeated Pony Hunter Champion in 5 out of 5 shows this season has a good chance for the VHSA High Score Awards. Kathleen plans to show Dancer at Farmington and also in Maryland later this season.

Hurricane Edna, the Open Jumper Champion, went undefeated in this show. Ridden by owner Jimmie Cantwell, Edna turned in round after round of faultless jumping. Fifteen-year-old Jimmie from Norfolk, Va., is staying in Richmond for the summer, studying horsemanship under Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Blair. The Blairs' nice moving chestnut gelding Ridgecrest won the Green Working Championship, over Nelson King's Satellite who had a perfect stake class trip with Jackie Blair in the irons.

Sunset Beau, owned and ridden by Peggy Pike of Marlynn Farms won the Reserve Working Hunter Championship. "Sunny" as Peggy calls the big bay gelding didn't seem to mind the rain or muddy track.

Blue Ridge Hunt

As usual, lovely Carter Hall provided a magnificent setting for the Blue Ridge Hunt show. The weather was in full cooperation and entries turned out by the dozens. The two rings did make it difficult for exhibitors showing both horses and ponies but were necessary to finish in time.

This year a Registered Welsh pony breeding division was offered as well as the regular crossbred division. Welsh entries were amazing with over twenty in the broodmare class. Mrs. J. Austin duPont found her trip from Pa. well worthwhile as she took home the Welsh stallion class and championship with her flashy, Liseter Shooting Star. Anthony Rives' Brigand II, a full brother to the Smokey Joe, Pinocchio, Nutcracker line, was crossbred champion over Fox Hollow Stables' handsome yearling son of Sylvia's Comet and Farnley Babette. In the breeding division for horses, Margaret Humphrey's two-year-old, Tiz-So, came out with the championship.

Sewickley Hunt

The Sewickley Hunt Horse Show Junior Day is growing - growing - growing. It almost grew into Saturday. The children competed avidly and with the greatest of true sportsmanship for the different awards. In the Sewickley Show there is an added attraction to the children. The "Dan M. Rugg Memorial Bowl" which is awarded to the Junior accumulating the most points in the Equitation Classes and either Pony or Junior events. This year it went to Miss Sheila Lenehan who won both her equitation and horsemanship over fences as well as Junior Hunter Hack and Junior Hunters.

Mr. W. C. Robinson's Steady Friar, also ridden by Miss Sheila Lenehan, made a clean sweep for the Junior Championship. In the Pony Division two ponies tied for the tri-color. Fantasia owned by Michael Lenehan and ridden throughout the show by several Juniors and Mr. Wm. Hanley's Peaches 'N' Cream ridden by Michael Lenehan. In the hack-off Fantasia was ridden by Tingle Culbertson and Peaches 'N' Cream by Michael Lenehan. Both ponies hacked well and the final nod was given to Peaches.

Saturday morning brought forth a beautiful clear, cool day and the classes were run off promptly giving enough time for a leisurely lunch. The hostess at the luncheon showed great foresight by having large plates of sandwiches on the hall tables, marked "Sandwiches for Cases" for the first time the "filling" of appointments was forethought.

The Owner-rider class, one of the bigger classes and more sought-after trophies, was won this year by young Greg Schurko riding his chestnut mare Little Easter. The trophy, The Richard Mather Marshall and John Ashby Marshall Memorial Challenge, was presented to Greg by Mrs. Wm. Hazzard and her father, Mr. R. M. Marshall.

The Family Class was well filled this year with seven families. Ranging from two to five in a family. The F. E. Richardson Family, completely turned out on grey horses, was very impressive, however, when the results were announced and the James A. Mansmann Family had won the class, there wasn't one person that did not cheer: the Mansmann's have been pinned second in this event for the past five years. This year Mrs. Mansmann and her son and daughter rode. Both Mrs. Mansmann and Barbara rode side-saddle with Dick between them. Their three chestnuts and their immaculate turn-out would have been practically impossible to beat.

The Elizabeth Walker Stevenson Memorial Trophy for Corinthian Hunters was won for the second consecutive year by Mr.

Wm. Stirling Jr. on his Extravagance. Extravagance went on to win the Working Hunter Championship.

Frank E. Richardson 3rd won the coveted Stonedale Cup. This cup has been in competition since 1939 and while three Juniors, to date, have succeeded in getting two legs on the trophy it has yet to be retired.

A new Hunt Team Challenge was put in competition and was won by the same Sewickley Hunt Team that retired the bowl last year. This team, consisting of Dan Lenehan on Mr. W. C. Robinson's Steady Friar, Sheila Lenehan on Mr. Wm. Hanley's Red Chester and Mr. Hanley on his Tillery's Spree, have made eleven consecutive wins. C. B. B.

Royal Oak

You name the weather, and at some time during Royal Oak's two day show they had it, right from broiling suns to monsoon rains. Horse show people are wonderful, they'll come no matter what, and it was amazing how many "Water Hunters" there were on Sunday morning.

The show was indeed grateful to all the exhibitors who came despite the weather. Next year we know it will be better for we know it can't be any worse.

F. E. I. Course for novice jumping class at the International Equestrian Organization Show, York, Pa.

International Equestrian Organization Show

On May 11th, the newly founded International Equestrian Organization held its first annual all F.E.I. and Dressage Show the first of its kind in the area. The show was held at Mr. & Mrs. George A. Roye's "Bri-Mar" York, Pa. and was judged by Baron Imre de Rohonczy.

The show offered three dressage classes, two combined events and three F.E.I. stadium jumping classes judged on time. The first dressage class was held at 10:30 A. M. in a well trimmed dressage course bounded by a low white picket fence and decorated with flowers. Due to inclement weather the second dressage test was held in the indoor riding hall. The majority of the performances in the dressage tests were above expectation and each contestant showed a great deal of promise for the future. All contestants received a written report from the judge with valuable hints for future work. The tests were those used in Scandinavia and proved most satisfactory. Each test was announced to each entry in order to permit the rider to concentrate to the utmost of his riding as well as provide the public with information as to what movements were being executed.

The jumping took place in the afternoon over courses complete with bank, dry ditch with natural poles, water jump etc. with 12 to 14 different obstacles in each class. No obstacle was jumped twice. The courses proved to be just about the right degree of difficulty and complexity for horses and riders on hand as there were only one or two clear rounds in each class.

There were no ties in the jumper classes as F.E.I. scoring was used with time deciding in the event of equal jumping faults. There is a saving of horse energy as the animals are not punished for having a good clean round by being forced to jump off two or three times over higher and higher fences. A class of this type is more thrilling to the spectator due to the fact that the rider is encouraged to maintain an even brisk tempo which generally enables the horse to perform more brilliantly. Management also appreciates the timesaving factor.

The officers of the International Equestrian Organization went all out to try to bring some of the color and dignity as well as good sportsmanship found at most European shows, to their York show.

All riders were asked to stop and salute the judge before proceeding to the starting line and all awards were received on horseback with the horses lined up, winning horse on the right. M.W.R.

Sands Point

On the whole the quality in the hunter divisions was in the green classes, rather than among the big horses where the entries were on the light side. In spite of the wet spring and only a week of dry weather the ground was extremely hard and slick. This fact cut down on the brilliance of the performances, and made for more cautious rounds.

A unique situation developed in the 1st year green working when Dave Kelley rode Mrs. Hugh Barclay's home bred sisters to the championship and reserve. The 4-year-old Queen's Lady out pointed her remarkable lookalike, 5-year-old Queen's Echo, for the award.

Winner among the open jumpers was a real surprise. Harry DeLeyer's Snowman, who has been shown successfully as a junior jumper jumped the big courses like they were children's fences. Going into the stake he had 14 points as did Dave Kelley's Andante holder of 2 legs on the championship trophy. With unbelievable ease, Snowman went clean (the only one) while Andante had 5 1/2 faults and was out of the ribbons.

Mr. DeLeyer also had a part in the green tricolor when he rode Louisa Vallejos' Night Arrest to the award. The grey mare is now scheduled to return to Ecuador with his owner who has been a student at Knox School. Tanbark

Avon Springs Downs

An eleven year period of an annual horse show sponsored by the Avon Springs Downs has seen some remarkable transformations. This show started as a local affair and has mushroomed into gigantic proportions. All the classes are more than ample but most important, the quality of horses has increased steadily. This is particularly true of the equitation division, the children are better mounted each year and the improvement in riding is remarkable.

Intermittent showers caused a few minor problems, but the many exhibitors and spectators stayed on through the mud and wet. One of the more interesting highlights was the exhibition of various pony types, sponsored by the newly formed Genesee Valley Pony Breeders Association and a long line of Shetlands, Welsh ponies, Conamara ponies, hunting ponies, Arabians and just plain ponies came into the ring. Each type was explained and its use demonstrated, giving the spectators a really good idea of the pony business.

GALT COMPETITION

Thanks to good breaks, J. C. Cakebread on Copper John just managed to avoid pulverizing L. C. Scott who had made an involuntary dismount right ahead of him in the Intercity Jumping Team Competition at the Galt Horse Show. This was in the first of three competitions which saw horses, riders and poles flying in all directions but by the next of the competitions, the riders were better versed and it proved to be one of the most popular spectator events with the Gayland Stable trio, representing Toronto, the eventual winners.

Triple-B Riding Club

The Third Annual Junior Horse Show of the Triple-B Riding Club was a dream come true for the young riders of Glastonbury, Connecticut, and the club's founder and guiding light, Mrs. Richard W. Conant. As a small town near Hartford, Glastonbury was full of young people who loved horses. Some of them had their own animals, but few knew how to ride or take care of them properly. They all wanted to learn.

So, in September, 1955, Mrs. Conant formed the Triple-B Riding Club, Inc., for the children of the area: the "B's" standing for "bit, boots and books." Enthusiasm grew and grew, and by the following June, they were putting on their first horse show.

In May, 1958, the Triple-B became a branch of the U. S. Pony Clubs, Inc., It is a unique member of this organization, in that there are no hunt clubs near it, and that only ten of its 32 members have their own horses. The boys have the same trouble in it as they do in most of the Pony Club branches however: there are only four of them to compete with the 28 girl members!

The horse-loving bug, or perhaps it is the children's eagerness, seems to have bitten many of the grown-ups in Glastonbury. The town has given the club permission to establish permanent horse show quarters on a large and beautiful strip of town property on the banks of the Connecticut River. Thanks to the combined efforts of the Triple-B and the Exchange Club of Glastonbury, which sponsors the horse show, this year's show was held in their brand new, enormous ring, a structure which should stand for generations. More out-of-town exhibitors appeared than ever before, giving keen competition to the hosts and hostesses. Captain T. Fred Marsman of Wellesley, Massachusetts, did a fine job of judging. Honors went to members of the Triple-B, with Ann Purtill and her mare, "Holiday," winning the Championship. Reserve Champion went to Ann Bragdon and her "Rob Roy."

Proceeds from the day will send a member of the club to Early Week at

Mills Riding School

This event turned out to be a good test of horses and horsemanship, pairing fourteen riders who had not gone together before, over a short but hilly cross-country course. Coming directly before the lunch break, it added also to noon-hour sociability among those who had been introduced to each other "under fire". A rather difficult class to judge, it has nevertheless turned out to be a pleasant diversion, on its second trial here.

Mechanized

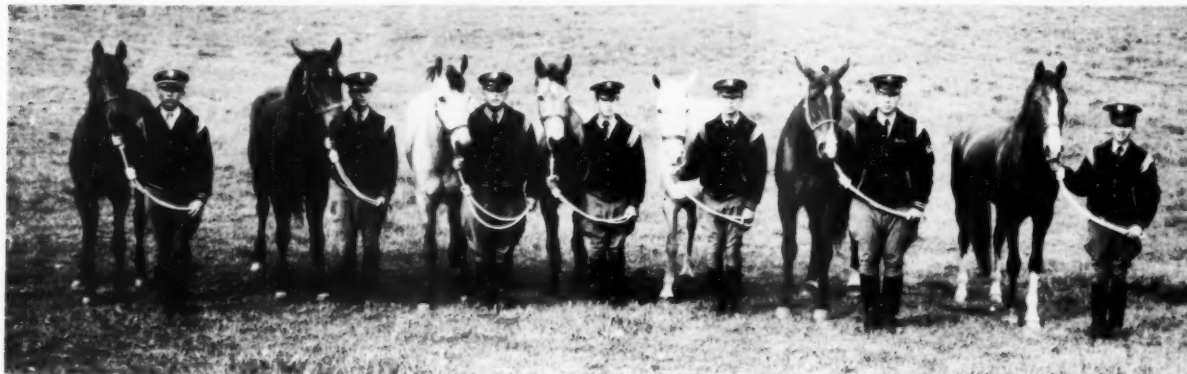

New York Military Academy's well known Troop D was deactivated on June 1 and replaced by a motorized unit. Thus came to an end the most colorful and most successful varsity sport at the Academy.

Founded in 1912 by Col. Henry A. C. deRubio, one of the outstanding horsemen of his time, the Troop has been the 'show case' of the school ever since.

The Jumping Team was sponsored in 1945 by Mr. Albert H. Merkel, of Long Island, who rebuilt the Stables, supplied most of the Team horses and was responsible for the engaging of Maj. Don Mitchell as coach.

The final season has been one of the best and horse lovers as well as exhibitors throughout the area are deeply sorry that the team will no longer be seen in competition.

Larger Crossroads

The second annual Larger Crossroads Show, which began as a country show more or less for the members of the Essex Fox Hounds, for whose benefit it is held, blossomed out into a large show this year. There were anywhere from twenty to thirty entries in each class and enthusiasm ran high.

The show was held on the beautiful and spacious grounds belonging to Mr. and Mrs. H. Nelson Slater, Jr. Mrs. Slater is Joint-Master of the Essex Fox Hounds.

Although only a Green Hunter Championship was awarded, there were several special awards given. During the morning session, which was given over to children 12 and under, Mrs. Charles Scribner, Joint-Master of the Essex Fox Hounds was a roving judge and her task was to select the child most suited for the title of "Future Fox Hunter". This was awarded to Miss Libby Hixson.

There was a contest held during the Walk-trot class in which a number of children were given pads and pencils to judge the class at the rail. These were checked with the Judge's choices after the class and the nearest to it received an award. This was won by Diane Harris who had three out of the four places correct.

The Parent's and Grandparent's Horsemanship was judged by the children who had won first places in a number of the morning events. Competitors had to ride bareback if they had ever won a ribbon in any show and in the case of Mrs. Perrin, who won the class, had to ride without stirrups if they rode sidesaddle.

Special awards were given for green horses who had never been shown in any show, anywhere, before and these were won by "Gin", owned by H. O. H. Frey-linghuysen and "Two Hearts", owned by Roger Mellick. E. K.

Mede Cahaba Schooling

Country Cuss, a huge skewbald "Heavyweight" hunter, bought originally to pull a haywagon, pulled the biggest surprise in the schooling show by winning the Working Hunter class. He was piloted to a perfect round by 19-year-old Peggy Weems. He beat many showing hunters and Thoroughbreds, including Cadence, Alabama State Hunter Champion.

Tippy Williams won the Henry Bergh class when Anne Windham called a cavesson a cavesson noseband, which is a conflicting term, thus moving her back to second. Col. Marion Broadnax, president of the Birmingham A. S. P. C. A. awarded the medal.

Dorothy Beeler won the largest class,

Twelve-year-old Peggy Sweatt rode her mother's hunter KURZON to three blues in the Tryon Junior Show. The spectators included George Morris, Frank Chapot, Billy Haggard and coach Bert de Nemethy of the U. S. Equestrian Team. Peggy has hunted a number of times with the Blue Ridge Hunt as well as with the Tryon Hounds, the past season.

Hunters Under Saddle, on her Quarter Horse mare, Two Bits. Mrs. Joan Morgenthau, M.F.H., won the Green Working Hunter class on Grey Girl, and her son Tony won the Knockdown and Out on Major T, with two clean rounds.

"Maldred" Gaines and "Midge" Barclay came down from Virginia to judge the show and help with the riding clinic.

This year we had a turnout of about 80 riders, which isn't bad for a show's second year, but next year why don't "Y'all Come!" H. H.

Hounds And Harriers

Dear Sir:

I am very interested in the comments about the West country harrier.

As a young man, I hunted in all the countries mentioned, and they were all very rough countries in those days, and one could not ride to or keep with hounds.

My father and I restarted the Four Burrow hounds after the first world war, and we had to get a lot of unentered drafts from many packs, including some from Colonel Currie and West country harrier packs, none of which I discovered was any use here in our open country. They were too brainy, and cut corners and stopped outside the gorse coverts, to try to get a start. I found you could not beat the pure English foxhound that was solely bred for work.

I still think one wants different types of hounds for different countries. These harriers are excellent in their rough countries, where they mostly hunt on their own.

Welsh Cobs And Ponies

Dear Sir:

As breeders of Welsh cobs and the lesser-known Welsh ponies (cob type), we cannot refrain from comment on your editorial remarks on the scarcity of Welsh riding cobs. There appears to be some confusion as to the Welsh cob (Section D in the Welsh Stud Book) and the Welsh pony (cob type) which is registered in Section C.

Demand for Welsh cobs undoubtedly exceeds supply, but these are still bred in considerable numbers. Fewer brood mares exist now because the Ferguson tractor has replaced the cob for all sorts of jobs on the small farm during the past few years. But rising prices recently have revived interest in breeding and more mares are to be found.

Premiums for selected cob stallions to travel six areas in West and South Wales are awarded annually, as well as maintenance grants for colts, to insure a choice of future entries. More Welsh cobs are being registered in the Welsh Stud Book which is due to be closed to Foundation Stock in 1960. Evidence of the increasing popularity of the Welsh cob as a riding animal was to be seen at the Ponies of Britain Summer Show last year, where many were entered in the ridden class for all the larger mountain and moorland breeds and did very well. Anyone wanting to see Welsh cobs with a good riding shoulder and free, but not extravagant, knee action is welcome at our stud. It is to be hoped that more shows will include Welsh cobs in their ridden classes.

With the smaller Welsh pony (cob type) up to 13.2 h.h. the story is different. These grand family ponies, so ideal as children's hunters, trekking and gymkhana ponies, were, once upon a time, a familiar sight. Now they are mostly to be found in the remoter hill districts where they are still used for shepherding.

Very few shows cater for them, and what classes there are almost invariably judged by old-fashioned harness standards, demanding high action. (This method of judging both these ponies and Welsh cobs has, incidentally, militated much against them being regarded as riding animals.) However, the value of these gay, sensible ponies, especially for trekking in the hills, is becoming more and more realised, and for the first time for very many years Premiums and maintenance grants were awarded to Section C stallions and colts at the Welsh Stallion Show at Lampeter on April 8.

This should help to build up this neglected section of the Welsh Stud Book. The recognition of these ponies as riding ponies may perhaps lead, let us hope, to the eventual amalgamation of Sections B and C - a classification which puzzles many both here and overseas. This would merely be a return to the old arrangement of the Welsh Stud Book before the present Section B was created, years ago, by the introduction of Arab and T. B. blood. There is much to be said for having only one section for the intermediate Welsh pony up to 13.2 h.h., which, while retaining the essential Welshness of type, might vary somewhat in substance as do the Welsh mountain ponies themselves.

We believe that probably we are the only breeders of all types of Welsh ponies and cobs represented in the four sections of the Welsh Stud Book. We, therefore, are acutely and directly aware of the problems and anomalies that can occur as matters stand at present.

U. S. Team at Hardenberg

Bill Bryan

Flexing its muscles for the first time in 1958, the U.S.E.T. opened its current tour of the international jumping competitions at Hardenberg, Germany, June 12 - 15.

The show, a national rather than international event, served coach Bert de Nemethy's squad as a warmup for the European Championships at Aachen, June 27 - July 6. Since the Hardenberg show was not designated as an international event, the presence of the U. S. riders was on an unofficial basis as they were unable, under the rules, to be officially placed or to receive prizes.

However, as a preliminary effort, the competition was a successful one for the team. In the coveted Grosser Preis des Kreises Northeim, highlight of the four-day show, 21 entrants were clean after the first round. U.S.E.T. captain Bill Steinkraus emerged on top in the jump-off as he flashed around the course on Miss Eleo Sears' Ksar d'Esprit with no faults, in the time of 43.8 seconds. Steinkraus also turned in a flawless round on Joan Magid's First Boy in 46.9 seconds, while George Morris went clean on Ellen Dineen's Sinjon in 47.7 seconds. Since the U. S. contingent was ineligible for official placings, the event was won by Alfons Luetke-Westhues on Ala with no faults in 45 seconds. Second was Hans Winkler on Fregola with no faults and a time of 45.5 seconds. Third place went to Guenther Rodenberg who turned in a faultless round on Hanna with a time of 46.8 seconds. Fourth was a tie between Fritz Thiedemann on Finale and Magnus von Buchwaldt on Flugwind as the two had four faults apiece and a time of 41.4 seconds.

In the Puissance class, Steinkraus withdrew after successfully going to 6'1" with First Boy. The performance was good enough for an unofficial third place. In the Preis von Hardenberg, a Class M event for time, Frank Chapot rode Mrs. Walter B. Devereux' Sinbad to an unofficial second place in an 85-horse field.

Commenting on the team's first outing, Steinkraus said, "As preparation, rather than competition, the show proved very satisfactory, exposing some areas to be worked on between now and Aachen. Judging from the German standard, nobody is going to give anything away this year and we'll really have to scramble for our share."

The only unhappy note was struck by the announcement by de Nemethy of the loss of two horses to the team. In a freak training accident prior to the Hardenberg show, Hugh Wiley's Winston died as the result of a broken neck. The promising son of Coq d'Esprit hit a small training fence during a schooling session at the Aachen quarters and fell, dying instantly. Wiley was uninjured. De Nemethy also announced that Rip Miller, veteran grey donated to the team by A. J. Long, had been sidelined for several weeks as the result of a bout with pneumonia. The capable gelding was ailing following his shipment to Germany by boat, but is now recovering nicely.

3. Procedure-During the seven day period of the preliminary tryouts, horses and riders will be judged and evaluated under the supervision of the Olympic Equestrian Games Committee.

Group Selection. Based on these preliminary tryouts a Group of not to exceed six (6) of the most proficient riders will be selected to be continued in further controlled Group Training and Horse show competitions (which may possibly be abroad in 1959) in preparation for the Games which will be held in Chicago in the period August 27 - September 11, 1959.

Final Team selection. The final selection of the individuals (4) to comprise the U. S. Pan American Grand Prix Jumping Team will be made from those individuals who have been designated for Group Training which starts not later than February 1, 1959. This team designation will be made about July 1, 1959 and will be based on the Horse-Rider combinations outstandingly conditioned and prepared at that time to represent the United States

Two of the best race fillies of recent years were the bays Delta and Double-dogdare, both bred and raced by A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, trained by Moody Jolley and now retired to take up broodmare duties at the Hancock haras, Paris, Ky. They are shown on the cover in a painting by Milton Menasco.

Delta, a daughter of *Nasrullah, was the 1952 foal of that great producer Bourtai, who has also sent forth the crack fillies Banta, Levee and Bayou. Delta was ranked as the second best female on the Experimental Free Handicap after juvenile victories in the Arlington Lassie and Princess Pat Stakes, and a strong second among the males in the Arlington Futurity. An injury limited her three-year-old campaign; but she came back at four to take the La Salle, Myrtlewood, Arlington Matron and Clang Handicaps, all except the Matron being against the males. Altogether she won 16 of 33 starts and $269,215 during her three active seasons.

Doubledogdare is a half sister, by Double Jay, to the Spalding Lowe Jenkins Stakes winner and sire Illuminable. She was the best two-year-old filly of 1955, when her triumphs included the Colleen, Matron and Alcibiades Stakes, and the filly division of the National Stallion. Also ranking at or next to the top of her division at three, she added the Ashland, Coronet and Spinster Stakes, Oaks Prep and Falls City Handicap to her list of victories. She placed in the Kentucky Oaks and Misty Isle Handicap, and showed behind Swoon's Son in the Arlington Classic. During her two active seasons she was unplaced only five times in 25 starts, 13 of which she won to collect $258,207. F.T.P.

Annual Meeting of the Virginia Thoroughbred Association

The Annual Meeting of the Virginia Thoroughbred Association was held in the Community Center, Middleburg, Va., at 4:30 P.M., on Friday, June 27, 1958. The president, Howell E. Jackson, of the Bull Run Stud, Middleburg, Va., was in the chair. About 100 members were present.

Mr. Jackson pointed with satisfaction to the fact that during the previous two years the Association had successfully accomplished the conversion from a state subsidized organization to one which is now self-sufficient and stands on its own feet financially. In reviewing the activities of the Association during the past year he listed the successful inauguration of the annual tour of stud farms consigning yearlings to the Fasig-Tipton Company's Saratoga Summer Sales; to the publications of the Association including its regular bulletin and its Annual Stallion Roster, the current issue containing a most informative and useful article "Standards For Stallions", by one of the directors, Abram S. Hewitt; the coverage given to activities of the Association and of Virginia breeders by the racing papers and periodicals, more particularly the recent Virginia section of "The Morning Telegraph" containing articles by Dr. Frank O'Keefe, Mrs. Ruth Kennedy and A. Mackay-Smith; the continuation of the Annual Two-Year-Old Awards; the inauguration of the Broodmare Awards; and the special Virginia Days at the Pimlico and Laurel Race Tracks. The treasurer, J. North Fletcher, reported an excess of income over expenditures of approximately $2,000. In presenting the Annual Two-Year-Old Awards for the highest placed colt and filly on the Experimental Free Handicap bred by Virginia breeders, Mr. Jackson congratulated Mr. Daniel Van Clief of the Nydris Stud, Esmont, Va., breeder of Poly Hi (Polynesian-Highfortidies), winner of the Lassie Stakes and $160,000 in 1957, who was given 115 pounds on the handicap. He also congratulated Mrs. Marion duPont Scott of Montpelier, near Orange, Va., the breeder of the colt Nala (*Nasrullah-Accra), who was assigned 119 pounds.

Mr. Jackson then led a discussion of the bill passed at the 1958 session of the Virginia Legislature calling for a study of pari-mutuel betting in the state, the study to be made by the Virginia Advisory Legislative Committee for report to the 1960 Session of the Legislature. Those joining in the discussion included the Hon. Tom Frost of Warrenton, a member of the Virginia House of Delegates; former Senator Raymond R. Guest of Powhatan; J. W. Fletcher of Sperryville; Daniel Van Clief of Esmont; Ian Montgomery of Warrenton; A. Mackay-Smith of White Post; Kenneth Edwards of Warrenton and Hubert Phipps of Marshall. Mr. Melville Church proposed a resolution, unanimously adopted, that the Virginia Thoroughbred Association put itself on record as being in favor of pari-mutuel betting and horse racing of the highest class in the State of Virginia and that it will make every effort to accomplish these ends. Mr. Raymond Guest was appointed chairman of the committee to carry out this resolution.

All incumbent directors were re-elected and the following new directors added to the board: Raymond Guest, J. W. Fletcher, Hubert Phipps, C. McGhee Baxter.

The Board of Directors then met for the election of officers and re-elected Howell E. Jackson as president and J. North Fletcher as treasurer. W. Haggin Perry was elected vice-president and Raymond Guest, secretary.

SARATOGA OPENING

Saratoga's 1958 Thoroughbred race meeting departs from a custom of long standing by opening on Thursday, July 31, rather than on a Monday, as in the past. The opening day stake event will still be the Flash, a $15,000 five and one-half furlong sprint for two-year-olds, and a total of 22 stakes will be contested during the 24 day meeting, which closes on Wednesday, August 27.

The stake events, 16 on the flat, 3 steeplechases and 3 hurdles, offer nearly $400,000 in added money, with the Saratoga Handicap, for three-year-olds and up, leading the list with $50,000.

FINISH MARKERS

Following on the suggestion of Mr. Phil Bull at the Gimcrack Dinner in England last year, Major Leslie Petch, Clerk of the Course at Redcar Racecourse, has introduced ten circular numbered discs, each one a length apart immediately preceding the finish line. Their purpose is so that the judge and public may accurately gauge the distances at the finish between the leading horses. Major Petch, who is Master of the Cleveland Hounds, measured a number of Thoroughbreds from the tip of the nose to the set on of the tail and determined that the proper distance for a length is 9 ft. --the discs accordingly being set that distance apart.

FRENCH GRAND NATIONAL

Sidere, a 7-year-old gelding by Sir Fellah out of Idee, owned by Baron de Blonay and ridden by M. Prudhomme, recently won the $28,000 Grand Steeplechase de Paris (French Grand National) run at Auteuil over a course of four miles, 120 yards.

When they finally got around to the divvying up - it was held up some minutes by a claim of foul, which was not allowed - the owner received $17,705. That makes $31,005 Red God has collected for the stable this year, in 7 starts, with 2 seconds besides his wins.

Red God is by *Nasrullah, out of the Menow mare, Spring Run.

Woody Stephens trains him.

On June 25, Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler worked out a mile and one-eighth in $17,900.

It was in the Stymie Handicap and the time was 1:48 2/5, 1 1/5 seconds slower than the track record, but good enough for a tightener.

There were some other horses in the event, but Bold Ruler paid no attention to them.

Under 133 pounds, part of which was Eddie Arcaro, he ran off and left them. He was six lengths to the good after a mile and coasted home to score by five.

Admiral Vee, Pop Corn and *Ben Lomond followed the winner in, passing the eye of the Jones Precision Camera as listed.

Bold Ruler, of course, was the choice, but 2 to 5 seemed good with his credentials.

Winning his third in 4 1958 starts, the four-year-old son of *Nasrullah-Miss Disco, by Discovery, ran his season's money total to $87,862. He won the Carter and Toboggan, and was second to *Gallant Man in the Metropolitan.

Last year, he won 11 of 16 and $415,160.

Jim Fitzsimmons trains Bold Ruler. Wheatley Stable (Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps) bred him.

In the Molly Pitcher Handicap, June 28, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Searching scored her second win of the year in eight tries.

The six-year-old mare was top-weighted in the race with 120 pounds.

Searching (War Admiral-Big Hurry, by Black Toney) won by a length and one-half over George D. Widener's Rare Treat. Pardala was third and Beautillion, fourth.

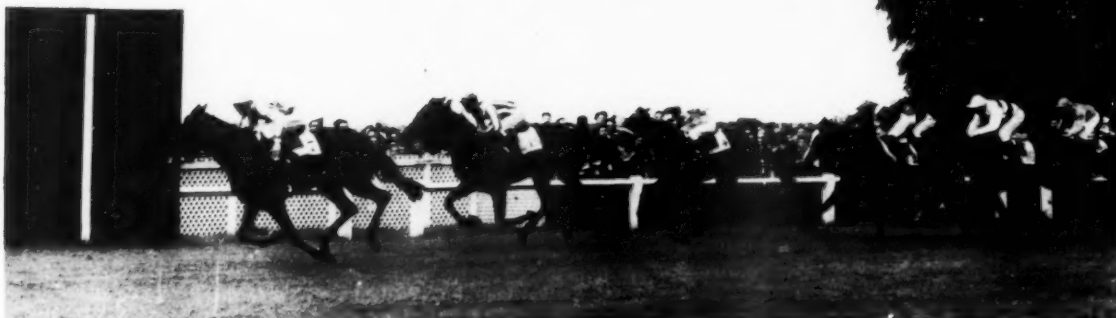

Jockey Harold Keene held Searching back off the pace of Happy Princess for the first six furlongs, and sent her up to get the lead going around the final bend. She was two on top at the eighth pole and held Rare Treat safe without too much difficulty.

The 1 1/16-mile race was worth

$18,452.50. That puts Searching at $39,571 for '58. Her other win was in Jamaica's Correction Handicap.

Hirsch Jacobs trains his wife's mare. Searching was bred by Ogden Phipps.

Brookfield Farms' Intentionally cake-walked off with another win on June 25, in Monmouth's Tyro Stakes, to make his record 3 for 3.

The two-year-old son of Intent (from My Recipe, by Discovery) took the 5 1/2-furlong sprint by 1 1/2 lengths, but he was galloping at the end.

Joe Culmone kept Intentionally right on the pace of Soda Card for the first two furlongs, and when Soda Card dropped back, the destined winner was all by himself. He was three lengths on top at the eighth pole and held Easy Spur safe without even trying.

Royal Anthem finished third, two lengths back of the place horse and a length and a half before Rough Tempo.

Intentionally was the 2-to-1 choice, and that was a long price in view of the colt's two easy wins.

The Tyro money amounted to $16,812.50. (Why don't they pay off in even thousands, like at Delaware?).

That put his earnings at $22,762.

Intentionally was bred by Brookfield Farms (Harry Z. Isaacs).

E. I. Kelly trains him.

Suffolk Downs

Under Pete Anderson, who never won so many stakes as he has this year, Promised Land rushed through the stretch to justify his 4-to-5 odds in the Massachusetts Handicap.

The 24th running of the 1 1/4-mile race was staged on June 5.

Carrying top weight of 119 pounds, the son of Palestinian-Mahmoudess, by *Mahmoud, scored by 1 1/2 lengths over One-Eyed King. Clem and Kingmaker took the smaller slices of the purse.

The race was worth $36,255.

With 4 wins in 13 starts, Promised Land has collected $241,260 in 1958. His biggest prizes were in the San Juan Capistrano and John B. Campbell Memorial Handicaps.

It was the first time Anderson had been aboard the gray four-year-old since he was a juvenile.

The colt is trained by Hirsch Jacobs and races for Mrs. (Ethel D.) Jacobs. Bieber-Jacobs Stables bred him.

Suffolk Downs closed its meeting on June 28, with the Bay State Kindergarten.

Mr. E. Lowrance's Mr. Jr., second choice at 3 1/2 to 1, was the winner by one length over Sun Better. Sin-Jex was third and Noble Empress, fourth.

The winner, a two-year-old brown gelding, is by Everett, Jr., from the Bless Me mare, Black Beauty. Mr. Lowrance bred him.

D. Posey trains Mr. Jr.; B. Mitchell had the ride in the Kindergarten.

Arlington-at-Washington

Round Table passed Citation on June 28, and that's something few horses have done.

In winning the Arch Ward Memorial, the Kerr Stables' classy four-year-old collected $33,000, which shoved up his earnings to $1,090,014. Citation has $1,085,760. Nashua is still out in front with $1,288,565.

Round Table covered the mile and one-eighth over Washington Park's turf course in 1:54 4/5, just one-fifth slower than the track record held jointly by Swaps and Hoop Band.

Round Table carried 129, the most of any horse in the Arch Ward. Under Bill Shoemaker, Round Table won by a length over his entry-mate Tall Chief II (also trained by Willie Molter).

Aysha was third and Shan Pac, fourth. Round Table (*Princequillo-*Knight's Daughter, by Sir Cosmo) was the 3-to-10 choice.

He has 10 wins in 11 starts in 1958, and has earned $416,430 since January 1. Claiborne Farm bred Round Table.

Pinecrest Miss took the 5 1/2-furlong George Woolf Memorial Stakes on June 25. Wet Back was second, First National, third and Star Gaze, fourth, in the Arlington-at-Washington event.

Mr. G. A. Cavanaugh, Jr.'s, two-year-old filly was second choice in the race at 3 1/2 to 1 and brought in $11,250 in prize money.

Ridden by Clarence Meaux, Pinecrest Miss scored by eight lengths in the muddy footing.

It was her third win in 7 starts. She has been second 4 times, and has earnings amounting to $19,895.

J. T. Kermath trains the filly. L. J. Tutt bred her.

LITCHFIELD HOUND SHOW

The Litchfield Masters, past and present, who have since 1950 helped build the Litchfield Hound Show should feel justly proud of it. The 1958 competition was representative and excellent, and local packs are beginning to look to the show more and more. Goldens Bridge, after an absence of some time, showed again this year, and it is sincerely hoped their personable new huntsman, Cecil Broad, will, like most other local packs, find Litchfield's annual show a helpful guide to type, and a likely spot for finding outside blood.

Hound shows not withstanding, there is no question but that handsome is as handsome does. Field trials for foxhounds are by far the biggest part of the sport today as they were yesterday, and they have figured strongly in the development of American foxhounds, particularly the Walker. Isn't there some way to combine them with shows? Maybe some year Litchfield could try hunting all entries on the plentiful live fox in the unfenced bottomlands of the Connecticut Valley, show them the following day, and award Best of Show for a combined score. The winner would represent pretty fair outside blood for any man's pack.

STANLEY HARRISON

Capt. Stanley Harrison, of Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., Canada, author of the volume of poems entitled "Gentlemen: The Horses!" and of many articles on Thoroughbred breeding, was recently re-elected president of the Prairie Thoroughbred Breeders and Racing Association, covering breeding and racing in the provinces of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

TREEYEWS PONIES

Mrs. A. J. Sellar, of the Treeyews Pony Stud, Much Hadham, Hertfordshire, England, recently accompanied six ponies and horses on the voyage to this country, five of them from her Treeyews Stud. These include, beside her Arab sire Zaki, who is going to Mrs. Frederic Winthrop, Hamilton, Massachusetts, a 3-year-old gelding by this sire and a 4-year-old gelding by Dropscotch. Mrs. Sellar will endeavour to further the cause of the British pony in this country and has the blessing of the National Pony Society and the British Show Pony Society.

CANADIAN EQUESTRIAN TEAMS

George Jacobsen, Montreal, president of the Canadian Horse Shows Association, has announced the appointment of a three man committee to organize the preparation and selection of horses and riders to represent Canada in International Competition. Named to head the project are: Charles W. Burns, Chairman; R. H. Hough and Lt.-Col. Charles Baker.

The recently opened Canadian Equestrian Training Center, made possible through Major L. J. McGuinness at his farm in Schomberg, Ontario, will play a key role. The Committee hopes that aspirants to the Canadian Team, both human and equine, will avail themselves of the opportunity to train under Major A. Pierogrodski, the Center's instructor, and has already booked certain reservations in courses offered at the center.

The immediate plan is to produce a Jumping Team for the Big Three International Shows this fall in Harrisburg, New York and Toronto. The intention is to announce this fall's team immediately following the Canadian National Exhibition in August.

Canada will send a Three Day Event Team and a Jumping Team to the Pan American Games in Chicago next year. A Three Day Event Team is planned for the Olympics in Rome in 1960 and possibly a Jumping Team for the Olympics if plans and horses develop properly.

WELSH IMPORTS

Mr. William Marcus, of Sierraville, California, sailed on the S. S. Panama from England on Tuesday, June 17th, taking with him 23 Welsh Mountain ponies, consisting of mares, foals, fillies and stallions, which he acquired from well-known breeders in Wales and along the Welsh border. Among his purchases was the good grey stallion Vardra Sunstar, who has already sired many top ponies abroad. Also travelling in Wales at the present time is Mrs. A. Parker, of Twin Falls, Idaho, who hopes to assemble about 25 ponies to sail the middle of August.

LAST TRIBUTE

During the graveside services for the late Monte Preston, well known horseman, who died in Cleveland, Ohio, and was buried at Sabinal, Texas, a small two seater plane was observed slowly circling, and dropping a flower now and then. It was later ascertained that the lone flyer paying tribute to Preston was Jim Thompson, of Thompson Brothers horse vanning services, who was formerly associated with the late horseman in vanning projects. Thompson landed his plane at the Sabinal field, and explained that he intended to arrive before the funeral started but terrific headwinds delayed him. He took off for his home port, Mangrum Field, Fort Worth, after a short visit with friends here.

HERBERT SWOPE

Herbert Bayard Swope, who is said to have edited the New York World from his box at Belmont Park in the 1920's, and was chairman of the New York State Racing Commission from 1934 to 1944, recently died in New York at the age of 76.

ROYAL DOULTON

Miss Elaine Boylen, Toronto, has sold the top conformation horse Thou Swell and bought a green hunter with a great future from Dr. J. B. Chassels. Her new purchase is the coal-black quality Thoroughbred Royal Doulton by Windfields who has, in his first season of showing already made quite a name, and rounded out the Galt Horse Show with the reserve green championship.

STOPPED

The setting is probably the most beautiful horse show grounds in the U. S. A., the day a beautiful day in June, sunshine, 72 degrees and no humidity. The entries were more numerous than in previous years, and the riders were mounted. The judges and ringmaster had given the signal to the public address operator for the first horse to start on the inside jumping course, the spectators were settled in anticipation. And then it happened. A colony of bees decided that this was the time to swarm, and swarm they did, right smack in the middle of the course. Now what would you do under the same circumstances? Wait for the queen bee to decide the issue, or what? Well, the queen had the situation well in hand and picked on a small bush in the ring, and the show went on through several classes until late in the afternoon when she decided against the bush, and took her court on another short flight to an ancient oak nearby where, to the relief of the Blue Ridge Hunt Horse Show, management, exhibitors and paying customers, she decided to stay.

POSTERIOR EXIT

(The following appeared in a recent issue of "Horse and Hound").

My readers may be amused as I was to hear the story, which I am assured is true, of the hunted fox who went to ground in the presence of an anti-sports fanatic. True to his principles this gallant sat himself firmly on the mouth of the earth boasting that the fox would be bolted only over his dead body.

The fox, however, fearing a death worse than fate, destroyed both the dignity and the resolve of this paver of the road to hell, by savaging his posterior and escaping.

There must be a moral somewhere!

CHARLIE COLEMAN

Charlie Coleman, one of the outriders at Suffolk Downs Race Track, was one year leading rider over jumps at Timonium and twice won the Amy duPont Gold Cup over jumps at Santa Barbara, Calif., in the early 30's.

MISSING SCIENTIST

Through the files of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, Albert Clark Reed, a scientist with the California Institute of Technology, working on a top government priority project, who vanished in 1952, was recently discovered working as a groom at Hollywood Park. His memory of events since then appeared to be somewhat confused, although he did know that his wife had since died and that his son has been adopted by his wife's sister. After some debate, Hollywood Park authorities acceded to his wish to continue at the track.

VALENZUELA VOTES

The Honorable Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House of Representatives, appeared to be somewhat at sea during the ceremony in the winner's circle after the Preakness Stakes (when Jimmy Jones approached the television announcer Mr. Rayburn inquired, "Is that the owner?"), but he perked up considerably when it was mentioned that winning jockey Ismael Valenzuela was a native of his own state, Texas.

What better tonic for an office-holder is there than an introduction to a constituent from a family as large as Valenzuela's? (One of 22 children). (Reprinted from "The Thoroughbred Record")

ATOM POWER OFF TO CHICAGO

Atom Power, the grey hunter belonging to Dr. John D. Gadd of Cokeysville, Md., and successfully exhibited by his son, Sydney, has been purchased by Miss Caroline Blunt of Winnetka, Illinois. Shown in only three shows this season Atom Power was ridden to two championships and two reserves by Joannah Hall of Paoli, Pa. The horse was shipped to Chicago following his championship at The Pony Show in Malvern, Pa.

AUSTRALIAN POLO CUP

The Australian Gold Cup, presented in 1925 for competition between the Polo Associations of the Australian States, of Tasmania and of New Zealand, was won this year by New Zealand, a very sporting occasion since the New Zealanders normally play in winter while the Australians play in summer.

RIVIERA MANN

Show goers in the U. S. may wonder whatever happened to the great little jumper, Riviera Mann. Well, he's up in Canada and making a fair bid at regaining his old form. "Stu" Holding of Guelph, through whose hands have passed legions of horses, now owns him and has Jane Holbrook, a Pony Club Associate member riding him, and riding him very well. At the recent Galt Horse Show Jane rode him to tie for third in the jumper championship stake final and won the toss from Doug Cudney on Second Army. Black Velvet and Brown Velvet from the ABC Farms tied for first.

BIRTH CONTROL FOR SCREWORM

As part of the campaign to rid the Southeast of the screwworm, which lays its eggs in cuts and wounds of horses and other livestock, an entomologist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, noting that female screwworm flies mate only once, has evolved a program of liberating tens of thousands of male screwworm flies which have been sterilized by exposure to radioactive cobalt.
